

Girlguiding Staffordshire Rules for Stallholders

- Only pre-booked sellers will be allowed to sell items within this event/group.
- No copyrighted/ Trademark items - this includes the use of fabrics, images or fonts which are protected by trademarks. e.g Disney, Harry Potter, Fortnite etc.
- Businesses must have own public liability insurance and show this to the organisers. (Guiding members who are fundraising for Girlguiding units/trips may use Girlguiding's public liability insurance).
- Please do not post more than 2 posts a day.
- Posts will be approved three times a day - 9am, 2pm and 9pm
- Wherever possible please use your own images.
- Prices must be easily seen in your main post / imposed on images.
- Businesses taking payment through PayPal must use Goods & Services NOT Friends & Family to ensure payment protection - This will ensure you're covered if a parcel doesn't arrive.
- Sellers are responsible for their own sales within the group and should turn on post notifications in order to keep up to date with customers.
- Sellers & Buyers must not private message each-other without first being invited to do so in the comments of the original post
- Sellers must not pester potential/ interested customers for a sale. (Buyers, if this happens to you, please contact county.admin@girlguidingstaffordshire.org.uk with details).
- We ask that businesses refrain from competitions and giveaways within this event as these are not covered by our charity license.
- Food & drink sellers must hold the appropriate safety certificates and licences & show these to the organisers - or be able to provide details of application if still awaiting inspection due to Lockdowns. This includes prepackaged food items, eg hot chocolate sachets, pre packaged cake mixes, Terry's chocolate oranges. Contact your local council for more information.
- Sellers may direct customers to their own Facebook page or website however we ask you to refrain from promoting similar virtual events to ours as this is a charity fundraising event.
- Stall numbers must be included within each post. Each stall will begin with XMAS followed by a number.
- We reserve the right to limit the number of stalls.
- Any issues/problems please email county.admin@girlguidingstaffordshire.org.uk. Please note that this email address is not checked at the weekends.
